A CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS.

An Aged Farmer of Beechwoods Badly Injured While Taking Pigs to Market With a Blind Horse-Floyd Kohler Accidently Runs a Knife in His Neck-Wm. Schaefer Falls 25 Feet and Injures His Ankle.

Michael Huebsch, an aged farmer of Beechwoods, was taking a load of pigs to Callicoon Depot on Wednesday of last week, when, in going down the Hortonville hill, the horse, a blind one, became frightened and started to back. It backed the wagon over a stonewall and the rig rolled down hill for some child of Mr. Huebsch, jumped safely out of the wagon, but the old gentleman was thrown out and was so badly in-

A Close Call for His Life.

Record.

Robert Wood, a carpenter of Fallsburgh, came near loosing his life Mon-day evening. He attempted to board a train at Centerville and fell between the cars, and was dragged for several feet on the rail. His cries attracted the attention of the trainmen and the train was stopped. It was a close call.

THE COURT CALENDAR.

Judge Fursman is Willing to Hold a Two Week's Term Towards Clearing it.

The court calendar for the term to be held next week contains 119 cases, of which 39 arc preferred. As Judge Fursman has announced his willingness to hold the term two weeks it may be reasonably expected that some of the most important cases that have been awaiting trial for years will be disposed of. Many have been stipulated over by counsel in despair of reaching them. Among these are Nos. 33, Koons as administrator against the town of Rockland; No. 43. Maney against Chapin; No. 58, Underhill vs. Finch; No. 63, Lizzie E. Howell against Jennie L. Greene; Nos. 72 and 73, Cochran against the Aetna and Niagara Insurance Company; No. 80, Stenger against H. S. Por-ter and P. J. Collins; No. 88, Jennie L.

THE CLOSE OF THE FAIR.

Receipts $1.800, or $296 in Excess of Last Year-The Coaching Parade a Success-Exciting Races.

Thursday, the third day of the fair. was the banner day in the society's history, owing in part to the races and excursion from Port Jervis, and particularly to the coaching parade. There were nearly 6,000 people on the grounds and the gate receipts smounted to $1900.

Although the parade was not as largeas that of last year it was composed of a number of prettily decorated vehicles. The Saginaw House, of which Owen Lewis is proprietor, received first prize for best decorated two-horse wagon, and the Broad View Hoase, E. F. Thompson, proprietor, second. The former was a large float trimmed with white branting and was filled with charming young ladies dressed in white.

The first prize for the best decorated single rig was awarded to Dr. S. G. Osborn and the second to Robert Gatens. The Doctor's display was a buggy covered with white bunting and trimmed with blue and yellow. The spokes of the wheels were wrapped in bunting and the horness was elaboratly trimmed. 150-rosetts were distributed over the whole rig. The second prize winner was a trap trimmed .with red, white and blue bunting and American flags. There were two novelty wagons which attracted a great deal of attention. The first prize winner was a two-wheel affair with an old carriage top tied upon it and a steer hitched to it. James Wheeler was the owner. John Osborn won second prize. His display was a wagon filled with dilapidate household. Van Mostein; No. 110, Boyce, against effects, chicken coops, etc. The occupants were a colored couple and two pickaninnies. On top of the wagon was a sign bearing the words "Moving to Dogtown" Although the latter was more burlesque, in the opinion of the judges a steer hitched to a wagon was more of a novelty than a mule hitched The Towner Farm received the prize for having the greatest number of wagons and the St. George Farm the prize for the finest display. The most attractive one of the latter was a new farmwagon filled with farm produce. 'Miss May Tymeson received first prize for decorated bicycle and Miss Katie Watts second. Edward Poweil won the prize for the best decorated bicycle ridden by a boy. The first prize for saddle ponies was won by Foster Winne and the second by Ethel Taylor. The Erie band of Port Jervis headed the parade and afterwards gove a concert in the band stand during the races. The judges were ex-chief of police, John Mc Cullough, James B. AN INSANE MINISTER.

Rev. Webster, formerly of Long Eddy, in Bellevue Hospital, Insane.

Rev. Mervin Webster came into notice in this section of the State by starting a newspaper to pay off a $2,000 debt against the Methodist church, at Long Eddy, of which he was pastor at the time. He failed in his enterprise, and was afterwards located at Cannonsville, in Delaware county, by his conference. While on this charge he made the acquaintance of Miss Eleanor Hardick, of Walton and married her. His wife soon rarted from him because he was subject to dangerous fits of insanity, and she rightly judged her life to be in danger.

We are assured by the best authority that the story that she was in anyway unfaithful to him or unloving, as has been published in a sensational form in New York papers, is entirely false. That she "wrecked the life" of her dear husband is an unmitigated lie. The Reverend lunatic changed from the Methodist to the Baptist persuasion and was one of the ministers in charge of the Baptist chapel at Second Aye, and 119th street, New York, when he became violent one night last week. He was taken to the insane ward in Bellevue Hospital, where he now is.

THE WALES CASE.

Testimony Concluded and Arguments to be Submitted Nov. 10th.

The litigation which has been going on for over a year by the heirs, legatees and creditors of the late Gideon Wales was concluded, so far as the taking of evidence goes, on Thursday last at Kenoza Lake.

Judge Smith, the referee appointed by the Supreme court to hear, try and determine the issues involved, to accommodate all parties, adjourned the hearing to Kenoza Lake, for the purpose of taking the evidence of Blake G. Wales, who was too sick to appear at the last hearing in Monticello. When all the parties and the counsel representing the different interests met at that place it was found that Mr. Wales was will puy you to get our estimates on lawn decorations &c., &c. 3704yr Rice, his physician, was called and said 3704yr that his
